Practice Page*7-1*Momentum

1. A moving car has momentum. If it moves twice as fast, its momentum is _____ as much.
2. Two cars, one twice as heavy as the other, move down a hill at the same speed. Compared to the lighter car, the momentum of the heavier car is _____ as much.
3. The recoil momentum of a gun that kicks is (more than) (less than) (the same as) the momentum of the bullet it fires.
*Although the speed and acceleration of the bullet are greater.
4. If a man firmly holds a gun when fired, then the momentum of the bullet is equal to the recoil momentum of the (gun alone) (gun-man system) (man alone)
5. Suppose you are traveling in a bus at highway speed on a nice summer day and the momentum of an unlucky bug is suddenly changed as it splatters onto the front window.
 - a. Compared to the force that acts on the bug, how much force acts on the bus?
(more) (the same) (less)
 - b. The time of impact is the same for both the bug and the bus. Compared to the impulse on the bug, this means the impulse on the bus is (more) (the same) (less)
 - c. Although the momentum of the bus is very large compared to the momentum of the bug, the change in momentum of the bus, compared to the change of momentum of the bug is (more) (the same) (less)
 - d. Which undergoes the greater acceleration?
(bus) (both the same) (bug)
 - e. Which therefore, suffers the greater damage?
(bus) (both the same) (the bug of course!)

Writing on the Wall Philip Van Notten,2005 Although the significance of 9 11 is subject to debate it is symbolic of a general sentiment of discontinuity whereby society is vulnerable to undefined and highly disruptive events Recent catalysts of this sentiment are eye catching developments such as the SARS Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome and bird flu outbreaks the Enron and Parmalat scandals political assassinations in Sweden and the Netherlands regime changes in Iraq and Afghanistan and terrorist attacks in Bali Istanbul Madrid and various parts of the Middle East However recent discontinuities should not be seen as evidence that discontinuities occur more frequently now than they did before Looking back in history we see that disruptive processes are common For example 25 years ago few Europeans would have predicted the upcoming upheavals on their own continent the collapse of communism Berlin as the capital of a reunited Germany the wars in the former Yugoslavia the single European currency and the near doubling of the number of European Union member states Changes elsewhere have been no less discontinuous and unforeseen the fall of the Asian tigers the emergence of the Internet and mobile telecommunication and the presidency of Nelson Mandela Societal discontinuity is a relatively new area of concern in policy development Since the 1970s the consideration of change and discontinuity has gained some ground over predictive forecasting which tended to reason from continuous developments and linear processes Rather than making forecasting the future it has become popular to use scenarios as a manner to consider several possible futures Scenarios are coherent descriptions of alternative hypothetical futures that reflect different perspectives on past present and future developments which can serve as a basis for action Scenario development aims to combine analytical knowledge with creative thinking in an effort to capture a wide range of possible future developments in a limited number of outlooks Scenario development assumes that the future is uncertain and the directions in which current developments might range from the conventional to the revolutionary In theory scenario development is a way to consider future discontinuity However there are indications that the theoretical promise is not reflected in scenario practice Research has shown that scenarios do not consider the idea of discontinuity as a matter of course In our research we found that a scenario study would benefit from efforts to create and foster a culture of curiosity for exploring the future and the possible discontinuities rather than simply commissioning a scenario study to provide insights about the future Only then can one read the writing on the wall of future developments

Instructional Process and Concepts in Theory and Practice Celal Akdeniz,2016-11-22 This book offers an accessible practical and engaging guide that provides sample instructional activities supported by theoretical background information with a focus on the nature of the instructional process in relation to several variables It approaches instructional models strategies methods techniques tactics and planning from a new perspective and shares effective tips to help readers better understand the instructional process and its theoretical elements The book addresses the following questions What is the nature of the instructional process What are the classifications of contemporary models and strategies developed within the instructional process Which groups yield the most effective methods and techniques and how can they best be practically implemented What are the instructional tactics teachers need to take into consideration in which groups are they collected and which tips can help us employ each tactic Additionally readers can adapt the book's ready to use sample activities to their own educational settings Overall this book offers an enlightening discussion on contemporary practices related to the teaching process a broad and holistic theoretical framework and an ideal reference source for all students and scholars who are interested in the educational sciences The Decentring of the Traditional University Russell Francis,2012-08-21

The Decentring of the Traditional University provides a unique perspective on the implications of media change for learning and literacy that allows us to peer into the future of self education Each chapter draws on socio cultural and activity theory to investigate how resourceful students are breaking away from traditional modes of instruction and educating themselves through engagement with a globally interconnected web based participatory culture The argument is developed with reference to the findings of an ethnographic study that focused on university students informal uses of social and participatory media Each chapter draws attention to the shifting locus of agency for regulating and managing learning and describes an emergent genre of learning activity For example Francis explores how students are cultivating and nurturing globally distributed funds of living knowledge that transcend institutional boundaries and describes students learning through serious play in virtually figured worlds that support radically personalised lifelong learning agendas These stories also highlight the challenges and choices learners confront as they struggle to negotiate the faultlines of media convergence and master the new media literacies required to exploit the full potential of Web 2 0 as a learning resource Overall this compelling argument proposes that we are witnessing a period of historic systemic change in the culture of university learning as an emergent web based participatory culture starts to disrupt and displace a top down culture industry model of education that has evolved around the medium of the book As a result Francis argues that we need to re conceive higher education as an identity project in which students work on their projective identities or imagined future selves through engagement with both formal and informal learning activities

Theoretical Nursing Afaf Ibrahim Meleis, 2011 An additional assumption was that the processes for theory development were new to nursing and hence nurses in graduate programs learned strategies for advancing knowledge from other disciplines This assumption was debunked with the knowledge that nurses were always engaged in knowledge development driven by their experiences in clinical practice Because of these assumptions most of the early writing about theory development was about outlining strategies that should be used rather than strategies that have already been used in the discipline to develop theories Theorists themselves did not uncover or adequately discuss ways by which they developed their theories therefore the tendency was to describe processes that were based on theories developed in other disciplines mainly the physical and social sciences And an implicit assumption was made that there should be a single strategy for theory development some claiming to begin the process from practice and others believing it should be
