Friction

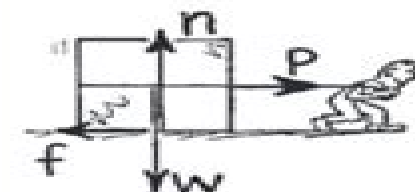

1. A crate filled with delicious junk food rests on a horizontal floor. Only gravity and the support force of the floor act on it, as shown by the vectors for weight W and normal force n .

- The net force on the crate is (zero) (greater than zero).
- Evidence for this is no acceleration.

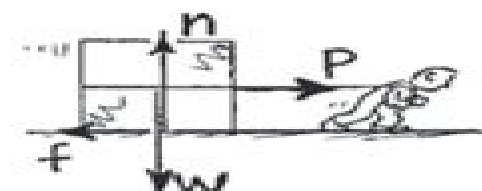

2. A slight pull P is exerted on the crate, not enough to move it.

- The force of friction f acting on the crate is (less than) (equal to) (greater than) P .
- The net force on the crate is (zero) (greater than zero).

3. Pull P is increased until the crate begins to move. It is pulled so that it moves with constant velocity across the floor.

- Friction f is (less than) (equal to) (greater than) P .
- Constant velocity means acceleration is (zero) (greater than zero).
- The net force on the crate is (less than) (equal to) (greater than) zero.

4. Pull P is further increased and is now greater than friction f .

- The net force on the crate is (less than) (equal to) (greater than) zero.
- The net force acts toward the right, so acceleration acts toward the (left) (right).

- If the pulling force P is 150 N and the crate doesn't move, what is the magnitude of f ? 150 N
- If the pulling force P is 200 N and the crate doesn't move, what is the magnitude of f ? 200 N
- If the force of sliding friction is 250 N, what force is necessary to keep the crate sliding at constant velocity? 250 N
- If the mass of the crate is 50 kg and sliding friction is 250 N, what is the acceleration of the crate when the pulling force is 250 N? 0 m/s² 300 N? 1 m/s² 500 N? 5 m/s²

Army Research and Development ,1967 Project Management for Environmental, Construction and

Manufacturing Engineers Nolberto Munier,2012-08-16 As a companion to books on project management theory this book illustrates in a down to earth comprehensive style how to put that theory into practice In addition to the many examples that illustrate procedures the book includes over 25 case studies each one addressing a specific theme Key topics such as project selection negotiations planning and scheduling cost and budgeting project control human resources environmental impacts risk management and financial evaluation are discussed using a step by step approach Beginning at the grassroots level some cases are solved by hand to illustrate the mechanics of a procedure while others are solved using advanced computer programs In this way the reader has a clear idea of the problem how and when to raise the issue information needed and who can provide it how to solve it by hand when possible and also its resolution using the latest informatics tools Thinking seriously about youth work Hanjo Schild,Nuala Connolly,Francine Labadie,Jan Vanhee,Howard Williamson,2017-11-13 If we consider the 50 states having ratified the European Cultural Convention of the Council of Europe or the member states of the European Union the multiple and divergent nature of the realities theories concepts and strategies underlying the expression youth work becomes evident Across Europe youth work takes place in circumstances presenting enormous differences with regard to opportunities support structures recognition and realities and how it performs reflects the social cultural political and economic context and the value systems in which it is undertaken By analysing theories and concepts of youth work and by providing insight from various perspectives and geographical and professional backgrounds the authors hope to further contribute to finding common ground for and thus assure the quality of youth work in general Presenting its purified and essential concept is not the objective here The focus rather is on describing how to provide opportunities for all young people to shape their own futures as Peter Lauritzen described the fundamental mission of youth work The best way to do this remains an open question This Youth Knowledge book tries to find some answers and strives to communicate the strengths capacities and impact of youth work to those within the youth sector and those beyond to those familiar with its concepts and those new to this field all the while sharing practices and insights and encouraging further reflection The Politics of the Commercial Determinants of Health Eduardo Gomez,Angela Carriedo,2024-12-31 Understanding the international and domestic politics of the commercial determinants of health is a new area of scholarly inquiry Perhaps more than ever the political science policy and public health community needs to better understand the complex political contexts shaping the rise and policy influence of the commercial industry ranging from tobacco to alcohol agribusiness and food products Initial efforts to address the commercial sector s political and policy involvement emerged with the corporate political activity literature which mainly focused on the tobacco industry s efforts to shape noncommunicable disease NCD policy Over the years public health practitioners nutrition and social scientists have built upon this existing literature to expand beyond the tobacco industry looking for example at food and nutrition and alcohol policy in several upper and lower middle income countries With the arrival of several innovative NCD policies throughout the world such as soda taxes and food warning labels coupled with increased international attention through multilateral agencies like the World Health Organization we have now reached a critical juncture in scholarly interest and attention to this topic THE ART OF PUBLIC SPEAKING Dale Carnegie,2023-12-08 In The Art of Public Speaking Dale Carnegie masterfully combines practical techniques with motivational insights to guide readers through the nuances of effective communication. Written with an engaging style that balances clarity and depth, Carnegie's work is rooted in the early 20th-century zeitgeist, reflecting an era increasingly reliant on the power of persuasion in personal and professional spheres. With comprehensive coverage on the mechanics of public speaking, including voice modulation, audience engagement, and speech structure, the book not only serves as a manual for aspiring orators but also enriches the reader's understanding of human psychology in communicative contexts. Dale Carnegie, a pioneering figure in personal development and communication training, drew from his own experiences of overcoming social anxiety and failure. His background in teaching and his keen observation of social dynamics enabled him to distill complex communication concepts into actionable advice. Carnegie's firsthand encounters with the challenges of public speaking resonate throughout the text, presenting both sympathetic encouragement and actionable strategies that empower readers to conquer their fears. Ideal for novices and seasoned speakers alike, The Art of Public Speaking is an indispensable resource for anyone wishing to refine their oratory skills. Carnegie's timeless wisdom and practical techniques will inspire confidence and mastery, making this book a transformative tool in the quest for effective communication in any arena.

Handbook on the Geographies of Innovation Richard Shearmur, Christophe Carrincazeaux, David Doloreux, 2016-11-25

The geography of innovation is changing. Firstly, it is increasingly understood that innovative firms and organizations exhibit a wide variety of strategies, each differently attuned to diverse geographic contexts. Secondly, and concomitantly, the idea that cities, clusters, and physical proximity are essential for innovation is evolving under the weight of new theorizing and empirical evidence. The aim of this handbook is to break with the many ideas and concepts that emerged during the course of the 1980s and 1990s and to fully take into account the new reality of the internet, mobile communication technologies, personal mobility, and globalization. The handbook gathers a new generation of ideas and authors to contribute to the debate, providing an empirically grounded critical appraisal of the prevailing knowledge on the geography of innovation. The 28 original chapters, written by a diverse range of scholars with widely differing views, present fresh empirical evidence and new perspectives relating to how innovation plays out across space in an age where mobility has increased, information is ubiquitous, and globalisation has been realised. Overall, the dialogue between existing theory and new possibilities provides a unique and challenging appraisal of the connection between innovation, agglomeration, and space. Offering cutting-edge ideas in an accessible format, this will be an ideal resource for students and scholars of economic geography and innovation studies. The empirical evidence and analysis will also be of great value for policymakers and government officials. Contributors include B. T. Asheim, H. W. Aslesen, A. Bain, P. A. Balland, N. Bradford, A.
