Bivariate Data, Scatter Plots and Correlation

A Scatter plot is a graph of ordered pairs that represents data.

Each of the ordered pairs gives information about two variables.

The study of two related variables is called bivariate data analysis.

Putting the points from a bivariate data set on a scatter plot can show if there is an association between the two variables that is not easily seen in a table.

Correlation

A scatter plot can show a trend or relationship between the two variables.

This relationship is called an association or a correlation.

Trend Line

The trend of the data is indicated by a straight line through the data points.

The trend line is used to describe the relationship shown in the graph.

Positive Correlations

As the X values increase,
the Y values increase.

The points on a scatter plot
go upwards
from left to right.

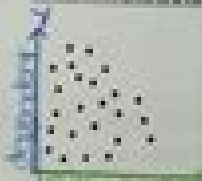

Negative Correlations

As the X values increase,
the Y values decrease.

The points on a scatter plot
go downwards
from left to right.

No Correlations

Data point are scattered

and points show
NO association.

Date 12-01-15

Creating Scatter Plots and Describing the Correlation

Example One: Comparing the number of pages in paperback books and the price of the books.

of Pages	300	350	380	400	450	500	550
Total Price	$2.99	$3.49	$3.99	$4.49	$4.99	$5.49	$5.99

1) Create a graph and label the X axis and the Y axis.

X represents # of pages
Y represents total price

2) Graph the data from the table.

3) Draw a trend line and interpret the data.

Interpret the Data

The trend line shows an upward trend.

So the data represents a positive correlation.

As the # of pages increases, the total price of the book increases.

This means: The more pages a book has, the more it costs.

Example Two: Comparing the number of hours people spend watching TV and the hours spent outside.

Hours watching TV	20	35	15	1	25	10	3
Hours spent outside	10	30	15	25	18	2	35

1) Create a graph and label the X axis and the Y axis.

X represents # of hours
Y represents hours spent outside

2) Graph the data from the table.

3) Draw a trend line and interpret the data.

Interpret the Data

The trend line shows an downward trend.

So the data represents a negative correlation.

As the hours of TV watched increases, the hours spent outside decreases.

This means: The more someone watches TV, the less time they spend outside.

The State and the Stork Derek S. Hoff, 2012-09-24 From the colonial era to the present the ever shifting debate about America's prodigious population growth has exerted a profound influence on the evolution of politics public policy and economic thinking in the United States In a remarkable shift since the late 1960s Americans of all political stripes have come to celebrate the economic virtues of population growth As one of the only wealthy countries experiencing significant population growth in the twenty first century the United States now finds itself at a demographic crossroads but policymakers seem unwilling or unable to address the myriad economic and environmental questions surrounding this growth From the founders fears that crowded cities would produce corruption luxury and vice to the zero population growth movement of the late 1960s to today's widespread fears of an aging crisis as the Baby Boomers retire the American population debate has always concerned much more than racial composition or resource exhaustion the aspects of the debate usually emphasized by historians In The State and the Stork Derek Hoff draws on his extraordinary knowledge of the intersections between population and economic debates throughout American history to explain the many surprising ways that population anxieties have provoked unexpected policies and political developments including the recent conservative revival At once a fascinating history and a revelatory look at the deep origins of a crucial national conversation The State and the Stork could not be timelier

21st-Century Statecraft Nayef Al-Rodhan, 2022-07-28 From civilisational frontier risks associated with new challenges like disruptive technologies to the shifting nature of great power conflicts and subversion the 21st century requires a new approach to statecraft In 21st Century Statecraft Professor Nayef Al Rodhan proposes five innovative statecraft concepts He makes the case for a new method of geopolitical analysis called meta geopolitics and for dignity based governance He shows how in an interdependent and interconnected world traditional thinking must move beyond zero sum games and focus on multi sum and symbiotic realist interstate relations This requires a new paradigm of global security premised on five dimensions of security and a new concept of power just power which highlights the centrality of justice to state interests These concepts enable states to balance competing interests and work towards what the author calls reconciliation statecraft Throughout Professor Al Rodhan brings his philosophical and neuroscientific expertise to bear providing a practical model for conducting statecraft in a sustainable way Handbook of International Negotiation Mauro Galluccio, 2014-12-04 This book reinforces the foundation of a new field of studies and research in the intersection between social sciences and specifically between political science international relations diplomacy psychotherapy and social cognitive psychology It seeks to promote a coherent and comprehensive approach to international negotiation from a multidisciplinary viewpoint generating a longer term of studies researches and networking process that both respond to changes and differences in our societies and to the unprecedented demand and opportunities for international conflict prevention and resolution There is a need to increase cooperation coherence and efficiency of international negotiation It is necessary to focus our shared attention on new ways to better formulate integrated and sustainable negotiating strategies for conflict resolution This book acquires innovative relevance in and will impact on the new context of international challenges which do not have a one off solution that can be settled through a single target oriented negotiation process The book brings together leading scholars and researchers into the field from different disciplines diplomats politicians senior officials and even a Cardinal of the Holy See to give their contributions and make proposals on how best to optimize the use of negotiation and diplomacy structures tools and instruments However unlike most studies and researches on international negotiation this book emphasizes processes not simply outcomes or even tools but the way in which tools are and can be used to achieve better outcomes in international reality based negotiation Frontiers in robotics and AI editor's picks 2022 Kostas J.
