Fluency and Reading Comprehension in Typical Readers and Dyslexic Readers: Volume II Manuel Soriano-Ferrer, Simone Aparecida Capellini, Giseli Donadon Germano, 2024-03-06 This Research Topic is the second edition of Fluency and reading comprehension in typical readers and dyslexics readers Volume I This Second Edition Research Topic is focused on the characterization of the reading writing difficulties and their comorbidities and in the analysis of evidence based recommendations for early interventions and treatment of these difficulties within the fields of neuropsychology speech language pathology and educational psychology Reading involves decoding and comprehension components and to become efficient it requires a large number of cognitive and linguistic processes Among those decoding failures can have different origins such as deficits in phonological and or visual processing In addition a child with reading difficulties might also have problems in the acquisition of writing and handwriting performance This is an important point to be discussed as reading and writing both suffer interference from vocabulary acquisition linguistic skills memory skills reading and writing practices and literacy methods These processes become important only when the professional needs to deal with students presenting learning difficulties Difficulty in using the knowledge of conversion rules between grapheme phoneme to word reading construction or phoneme grapheme for writing can be identified in schoolchildren with dyslexia dysgraphia and dysortography being a specific learning disorder with a neurological etiology In addition there is established evidence of a speech language processing basis students with specific learning disabilities can show a range of cognitive difficulties e g rapid naming executive functioning working memory These presented difficulties interfere in their learning process impairing their learning development

Getting to the Common Core Sharon L. Spencer, Sandra Vavra, 2015-01-01 The Common Core Standards have recently been adopted in most states across the nation and teachers are in the process of getting to the core of these standards Teaching to standards is not a new concept teachers have adapted to new standards every few years for quite some time And teachers are adaptable as can be seen in this book We are writing this book to demonstrate how teachers use research based strategies to meet Common Core Standards while still focusing on students Our goal is to help teachers visualize students in action as other teachers describe the implementation of research based strategies in their own classrooms show student work samples and provide reflections of student success in achieving the standards Many Common Core Standards books focus on the standards but our approach focuses on strategies that engage the students in the classroom showing how different teachers at varying grade levels have used the strategies to meet the standards With this focus we believe that teachers gain a new and positive perspective on approaching the new standards and see the flexibility of strategies for meeting standards across subject areas We have examined research on the strategies with the purpose of giving teachers a brief description of why these strategies work before giving actual examples from classrooms We also work closely with teachers in the public schools and have our finger on the pulse of what is happening in the public schools one of the current stressors being unpacking the Common Core Standards This book actually focuses on practice We begin by laying out a rationale in our first chapter The Core Value s of Education Then each chapter focuses on a strategy including 1 a brief description about the research supporting each strategy and 2 several examples from different grade levels which include a description of how the strategy was used student work samples and a reflection on the use of the strategy The research descriptions are fairly short because while we believe professional educators aka teachers in this case should know the research that supports practice we know they are not typically interested in long diatribes about the research

Digitally Supported Disciplinary Literacy for Diverse K-5 Classrooms Jamie Colwell, Amy Hutchison, Lindsay Woodward, 2020 This book focuses on how elementary teachers might plan for and incorporate digitally supported disciplinary literacy into English Language Arts Mathematics Science and Social Studies to reach all learners To do so the authors present the six phase Planning Elementary Digitally Supported Literacy PEDDL Framework along with four core practices useful for considering elementary disciplinary literacy After grounding disciplinary literacy in elementary grades how it might support all learners and the rationale for its inclusion in K 5 instruction core practices are presented along with a rationale behind those practices Then the authors provide an in depth overview of the PEDDL Framework with examples and research based underpinnings of each phase Finally a paired chapter approach then guides readers through each of the four core disciplines to first overview practices particular to each discipline that are appropriate for elementary grades and then provide detailed lesson planning approaches using the PEDDL Framework for each Supplementary lesson plan examples are also offered in this book for extended consideration of digitally supported disciplinary literacy across K 5

Children's Attitudes, Knowledge and Behaviors Toward Animals Stephen R. Kellert, 1983 The basic objectives of this research which involved children in the 2nd 5th 8th and 11th grades were to describe children's uses and perceptions of animals and to discern possible developmental stages in the evolution of attitudes toward animals Personal interviews were conducted with 267 children from 16 public schools randomly selected from urban small city suburban and rural areas of the state of Connecticut Three major developmental stages in the evolution of children's perceptions of animals were found The first stage occurring from the 2nd to 5th grade was characterized by a dramatic increase in emotional concern and general affection for animals Since very young children were the most exploitative harsh and unfeeling of all children in their attitudes toward animals environmental programs should focus on the affective realm The transition from fifth to eighth grades witnessed the second major developmental stage a major expansion in children s intellectual and cognitive understandings of animals Therefore factual learning should be emphasized at this stage The third developmental stage occurred between 8th and 11th grades during which time children s ethical concern for the welfare and kind treatment of animals increased dramatically This stage offers the best opportunity for teaching about ethical relationships to animals and the concepts of ecology and wildlife management RM

Checking for Understanding Douglas Fisher,Nancy Frey,2015-12-18 A teacher presents a lesson and at the end asks students if they understand the material The students nod and say they get it Later the teacher is dismayed when many of the students fail a test on the material Why aren t students getting it And just as important why didn t the teacher recognize the problem In Checking for Understanding Douglas Fisher and Nancy Frey show how to increase students understanding with the help of creative formative assessments When used regularly formative assessments enable every teacher to determine what students know and what they still need to learn Fisher and Frey explore a variety of engaging activities that check for and increase understanding including interactive writing portfolios multimedia presentations audience response systems and much more This new 2nd edition of Checking for Understanding has been updated to reflect the latest thinking in formative assessment and to show how the concepts apply in the context of Fisher and Frey s work on gradual release of responsibility guided instruction formative assessment systems data analysis and quality instruction Douglas Fisher and Nancy Frey are the creators of the Framework for Intentional and Targeted FIT Teaching They are also the authors of numerous ASCD books including The Formative Assessment Action Plan Practical Steps to More Successful Teaching and Learning and the best selling Enhancing RTI How to Ensure Success with Effective Classroom Instruction and Intervention
