Kimberlee Ann Douillard,1999 New Research on Early Childhood Education Arthur T. Waddell,Rachel M. McBride,2008 Early Childhood Education spans the human life from birth to age 8 Infants and toddlers experience life more holistically than any other age group Social emotional cognitive language and physical lessons are not learned separately by very young children Adults who are most helpful to young children interact in ways that understand that the child is learning from the whole experience not just that part of the experience to which the adult gives attention Although early childhood education does not have to occur in the absence of the parent or primary caregiver this term is sometimes used to denote education by someone other than these the parent or primary caregiver Both research in the field and early childhood educators view the parents as an integral part of the early childhood education process Early childhood education takes many forms depending on the theoretical and educational beliefs of the educator or parent Other terms those are often used interchangeably with early childhood education are early childhood learning early care and early education Much of the first two years of life are spent in the creation of a child s first sense of self or the building of a first identity Because this is a crucial part of children s makeup how they first see themselves how they think they should function how they expect others to function in relation to them early care must ensure that in addition to carefully selected and trained caregivers links with family home culture and home language are a central part of program policy If care becomes a substitute for rather than a support of family children may develop a less than positive sense of who they are and where they come from because of their child care experience This book presents the latest research in this vital field Principled Practices for Adolescent Literacy Elizabeth G.

Sturtevant,Fenice B. Boyd,William G. Brozo,Kathleen A. Hinchman,David W. Moore,Donna E. Alvermann,2016-02-11 This book presents an evidence based framework for understanding the literacy needs of adolescents The premise is that educators and other critical stakeholders need to understand evidence based principles in order to develop effective curriculum to meet the needs of diverse learners Recommendations are provided for middle and secondary education professional development teacher education research and policy At the center of the book are Eight Guiding Principles developed by the authors through a process that included an extensive review of research and policy literature in literacy and related fields a comparison of National Standards documents and visits to the classrooms of 28 middle and high school teachers across the United States The Principles are broad enough to encompass a variety of contexts and student needs yet specific enough to offer real support to those involved in program development or policy decisions They provide an overarching structure that districts and teachers can use to develop site specific curriculum that is both research based and designed to meet the needs of the learners for whom they are responsible Important Text Features Organized to help readers understand empirically supported principles of practice that can be used to address literacy concerns in today s schools each chapter that addresses one of the eight Principles follows a similar format The Principle is presented along with a brief explanation of the research base and a sample of national standards that support it One or more case examples spanning a wide variety of disciplines grade levels and local conditions provide an in depth look at the Principle in action A well known adolescent literacy expert offers a response to each case example giving readers an informed view of the importance of the Principle how it is enacted in the cases and examples of other work related to the Principle Discussion questions are provided that can be used for individual reflection or group discussion Principled Practices for Adolescent Literacy is intended as a text for pre service and in service upper elementary middle and high school literacy methods courses and graduate courses related to adolescent literacy and as a resource for school district personnel policymakers and parents

Student Teaching K.J. Fasching-Varner,2014-02-07 The journey of becoming a teacher is a complicated emotional and often intricate endeavor Much has been written about pre service teachers but rarely do we understand the journey through their own voices Join nine pre service teachers as they share their experiences challenges and victories through a series of powerful narratives Committed to making the process more transparent for those embarking on a similar journey the chapter authors share honest personal and heartfelt viewpoints about what it means to become a teacher The nine pre service teachers in this volume all participated in a yearlong student teaching in the renowned Elementary Holmes Master of Arts in Teaching program at Louisiana State University Putting to practice critical perspectives about what it means to teach in the 21st century these authors expose their vulnerabilities with a range of literary approaches including metaphor reflective journaling and storytelling The volume is framed by teacher educator insights about the contexts and complexities of teaching A must read for anyone preparing to student teach or for those already student teaching Student Teaching A Journey in Narratives deals directly with the realities of learning to teach Sometimes poetic sometimes painful these compelling personal narratives of novice teachers provide a poignant view of the struggles fears and celebrations developing teachers traverse on the journey to induction into the profession Teacher educators and teacher candidates alike will find much to explore and discuss in these chapters No stone of learning to teach is left unturned Lisa Delpit Author of Other People s Children Cultural Conflict in the Classroom and Multiplication is for White People Raising Expectations for Other People s Children
