acquisition and use of each language on the extent of involvement of basic cerebral functional mechanisms The effects of pathology as a means to understanding the normal functioning of verbal communication processes in the bilingual and multilingual brain are explored and compared with data from neuroimaging studies In addition to its obvious research benefits the clinical and social reasons for assessment of bilingual aphasia with a measuring instrument that is linguistically and culturally equivalent in each of a patient's languages are stressed The relationship between language and thought in bilinguals is examined in the light of evidence from pathology The proposed linguistic theory of bilingualism integrates a neurofunctional model the components of verbal communication and their relationships implicit linguistic competence metalinguistic knowledge pragmatics and motivation and a set of hypotheses about language processing neurofunctional modularity the activation threshold the language cognition distinction and the direct access hypothesis

Multilingualism, Cultural Identity, and Education in Morocco Moha Ennaji, 2005-01-20 In this book I attempt to show how colonial and postcolonial political forces have endeavoured to reconstruct the national identity of Morocco on the basis of cultural representations and ideological constructions closely related to nationalist and ethnolinguistic trends I discuss how the issue of language is at the centre of the current cultural and political debates in Morocco The present book is an investigation of the ramifications of multilingualism for language choice patterns and attitudes among Moroccans More importantly the book assesses the roles played by linguistic and cultural factors in the development and evolution of Moroccan society It also focuses on the impact of multilingualism on cultural authenticity and national identity Having been involved in research on language and culture for many years I am particularly interested in linguistic and cultural assimilation or alienation and under what conditions it takes place especially today that more and more Moroccans speak French and are influenced by Western social behaviour more than ever before In the process I provide the reader with an updated description of the different facets of language use language maintenance and shift and language attitudes focusing on the linguistic situation whose analysis is often blurred by emotional reactions ideological discourses political biases simplistic assessments and ethnolinguistic identities Selected Writings of Edward Sapir in Language, Culture and Personality Edward Sapir, 2021-01-08 This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1949 Languages and Cultures in Contrast and Comparison María A.
