The Last Light Of The Sun By Guy Gavriel Kay:

The Last Light of the Sun Guy Gavriel Kay, 2011 From the multiple award winning author of Ysabel Tigana and A Song for Arbonne this powerful moving saga evokes the Celtic Anglo Saxon and Norse cultures of a thousand years ago There is nothing soft or silken about the north The lives of men and women are as challenging as the climate and lands in which they dwell For generations the Erlings of Vinmark have taken their dragon prowed ships across the seas raiding the lands of the Cyngael and Anglcyn peoples leaving fire and death behind But times change even in the north and in a tale woven with consummate artistry people of all three cultures find the threads of their lives unexpectedly brought together Bern Thorkellson punished for his father's sins commits an act of vengeance and desperation that brings him face to face across the sea with a past he's been trying to leave behind In the Anglcyn lands of King Aeldred the shrewd king battling inner demons all the while shores up his defenses with alliances and diplomacy and with swords and arrows while his exceptional unpredictable sons and daughters pursue their own desires when battle comes and darkness falls in the woods And in the valleys and shrouded hills of the Cyngael whose voices carry music even as they feud and raid amongst each other violence and love become deeply interwoven when the dragon ships come and Alun ab Owyn chasing an enemy in the night glimpses strange lights gleaming above forest pools

AngloSaxon(ist) Pasts, PostSaxon Futures Donna Beth Ellard, 2019 Over the past several years Anglo Saxon studies alongside the larger field of medieval studies has undergone a reckoning Outcries against the misogyny and sexism of prominent figures in the field have quickly turned to issues of racism prompting Anglo Saxonists to recognize an institutional structural whiteness that not only bars the door to people of color but also prohibits scholars from confronting the very idea that race and racism operate within the field's scholarship scholarly practices and intellectual history Anglo Saxon ist Pasts postSaxon Futures traces the integral role that colonialism and racism play in Anglo Saxon studies by tracking the development of the Anglo Saxonist an overtly racialized term that describes a person whose affinities point towards white nationalism That scholars continue to call themselves Anglo Saxonists despite urgent calls to combat racism within the field suggests that this term is much more than just a professional appellation It is this book argues a ghost in the machine of

Anglo Saxon studies a spectral figure created by a group of nineteenth century historians archaeologists and philologists responsible for not only framing the interdisciplinary field of Anglo Saxon studies but for also encoding ideologies of British colonialism and Anglo American racism within the field s methods and pedagogies Anglo Saxon ist pasts postSaxon Futures is at once a historiography of Anglo Saxon studies a mourning of its Anglo Saxonist fathers and an exorcism of the colonial racial ghosts that lurk within the field s scholarly methods and pedagogies Part intellectual history part grief work this book leverages the genres of literary criticism auto ethnography and creative nonfiction in order to confront Anglo Saxonist pasts in order to imagine speculative postSaxon futures inclusive of voices and bodies heretofore excluded from the field of Anglo Saxon studies
