The Fat Woman Next Door is Pregnant Michel Tremblay, 1982 Chronicles of the Plateau Mont Royal: A thing of beauty Michel Tremblay, 1981 Grosse Femme D'à Côté Est Enceinte Michel Tremblay, 1981 The Rise of the Neighbourhood in Canada, 1880s-2020s Richard Harris, 2025-03-31

Neighbourhoods matter now more than ever before. They sustain fewer social connections but in an era of great social inequality and high levels of immigration they have become vital as places for homeowner investment and educational opportunity for children. The Rise of the Neighbourhood in Canada 1880s 2020s traces the changing character and significance of Canadian urban neighbourhoods city and suburban since the 1880s. The book highlights patterns in neighbourhood life particularly noticeable in larger urban areas which are especially important for the least mobile people workers lower income households immigrants women children and the elderly. It explores how the physical and social characteristics of neighbourhoods affect public health crime rates social capital and job opportunities while shaping the lifelong prospects of children. Analysing long term trends the book examines the importance of communications technology in the context of rising inequality and immigration. It shows how as homeownership rose neighbourhoods became vital settings for investment increasingly financialized reducing affordability. Using examples from all types of neighbourhoods in cities small and large from St John's through Montreal and Winnipeg to Victoria. The Rise of the Neighbourhood in Canada argues that the current prominence of neighbourhoods will persist.

Equivocal City Patrick Coleman, 2018-10-30 The study of Montreal as a specific location in French and English writings has long been subordinated to the demands of linguistically divided and politically contentious narratives about national development In this cross linguistic study Patrick Coleman models an inclusive and post national literary history of the city itself Tracing a sequence of moments in the emergence of the Montreal novel from World War II to the turbulent 1960s Equivocal City offers close readings of fourteen key works of fiction focusing on the inner dynamic of their construction as well as the unexpected convergences and contrasts in the narrative structures they adopt and the aesthetic perspective they seek to achieve Critically sophisticated but accessibly written this book gives a sympathetic account of how writers in both languages struggled to give integrated artistic expression to their experience of a city that was still linguistically compartmentalized and culturally insecure By analyzing the interplay between story and narrative form the book explores what French and English novelists could and could not imagine about the Montreal they sought to portray From the responsible realism of Hugh MacLennan and Gabrielle Roy to the fractious phantasmagorias of Jacques Ferron and Leonard Cohen Equivocal City traces the evolution of the Montreal novel with the aim of retrieving a shareable literary past

Writing between the Lines Agnes Whitfield, 2006-03-03 The essays in Writing between the Lines explore the lives of twelve of Canada's most eminent anglophone literary translators and delve into how these individuals have contributed to the valuable process of literary exchange between francophone and anglophone literatures in Canada Through individual portraits this book traces the events and life experiences that have led W H Blake John Glassco Philip Stratford Joyce Marshall Patricia Claxton Doug Jones Sheila Fischman Ray Ellenwood Barbara Godard Susanne de Lotbinière Harwood John Van Burek and Linda Gaboriau into the complex world of literary translation Each essay portrait examines why they chose to translate and what linguistic and cultural challenges they have faced in the practice of their art Following their relationships with authors and publishers the translators also reveal how they have defined the goals and the process of literary translation Containing original detailed biographical and bibliographical material Writing between the Lines offers many new insights into the literary translation process and the diverse roles of the translator as social agent The first text on Canadian translators it makes a major contribution in the areas of literary translation comparative literature Canadian literature and cultural studies
