The background of the cover is a sepia-toned portrait of a man in profile, facing left. He is wearing a dark top hat and a dark, textured coat. The surface of the hat is semi-transparent, revealing a misty cemetery scene with several tombstones and crosses. The overall mood is somber and atmospheric.

rights education and other social reforms Dickens's literary success began with the 1836 serial publication of The Pickwick Papers. Within a few years he had become an international literary celebrity famous for his humour, satire and keen observation of character and society. His novels, most published in monthly or weekly instalments, pioneered the serial publication of narrative fiction, which became the dominant Victorian mode for novel publication. Cliffhanger endings in his serial publications kept readers in suspense. The instalment format allowed Dickens to evaluate his audience's reaction and he often modified his plot and character development based on such feedback. For example, when his wife's chiropodist expressed distress at the way Miss Mowcher in David Copperfield seemed to reflect her disabilities, Dickens improved the character with positive features. His plots were carefully constructed and he often wove elements from topical events into his narratives. Masses of the illiterate poor chipped in ha'pennies to have each new monthly episode read to them, opening up and inspiring a new class of readers.

The Haunted Man and the Ghost's Bargain by Charles Dickens Annotated Charles Dickens, 2021-07-22

Redlaw is a teacher of chemistry who often broods over wrongs done him and grief from his past. He is haunted by a spirit who is not so much a ghost as Redlaw's phantom twin and is an awful likeness of himself with his features and his bright eyes and his grizzled hair and dressed in the gloomy shadow of his dress. This specter appears and proposes to Redlaw that he can allow him to forget the sorrow, wrong and trouble you have known to cancel their remembrance. Redlaw is hesitant at first but finally agrees. However, before the spirit vanishes, it imposes an additional consequence: The gift that I have given you, you shall give again, go where you will.
