The Jungle Book By Rudyard Kipling:

The Jungle Book Rudyard Kipling, 2017-08-08 The Jungle Book 1894 is a collection of stories written by Rudyard Kipling. The tales in the book and also those in The Second Jungle Book which followed in 1895 and which includes five further stories about Mowgli are fables using animals in an anthropomorphic manner to give moral lessons. The verses of The Law of the Jungle for example lay down rules for the safety of individuals, families and communities. Kipling put in them nearly everything he knew or heard or dreamed about the Indian jungle. The stories were first published in magazines in 1893-94. The original publications contain illustrations, some by the author's father John Lockwood Kipling. Rudyard Kipling was born in India and spent the first six years of his childhood there. After about ten years in England he went back to India and worked there for about six and a half years. These stories were written when Kipling lived in Naulakha, the home he built in Dummerston, Vermont in the United States.

Kipling was born in India and spent the first six years of his childhood there. After about ten years in England he went back to India and worked there for about six and a half years. These stories were written when Kipling lived in Vermont. There is evidence that it was written for his daughter Josephine who died in 1899, aged six, after a rare first edition of the book with a poignant handwritten note by the author to his young daughter was discovered at the National Trust's Wimpole Hall in Cambridgeshire in 2010. The tales in the book and also those in The Second Jungle Book which followed in 1895 and which includes five further stories about Mowgli are fables using animals in an anthropomorphic manner to give moral lessons. The verses of The Law of the Jungle for example lay down rules for the safety of individuals, families and communities. Kipling put in them nearly everything he knew or heard or dreamed about the Indian jungle. Other readers have interpreted the work as allegories of the politics and society of the time. The best known of them are the three stories revolving around the adventures of an abandoned man-cub Mowgli who is raised by wolves in the Indian jungle. The most famous of the other stories are probably Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, the story of a heroic mongoose, and Toomai of the Elephants, the tale of a young elephant handler. As with much of Kipling's work, each of the stories is preceded by a piece of verse and succeeded by another.

It was seven o clock of a very warm evening in the Seonee hills when Father Wolf woke up from his day s rest scratched himself yawned and spread out his paws one after the other to get rid of the sleepy feeling in their tips Mother Wolf lay with her big gray nose dropped across her four tumbling squealing cubs and the moon shone into the mouth of the cave where they all lived Augrh said Father Wolf It is time to hunt

again He was going to spring down hill when a little shadow with a bushy tail crossed the threshold and whined Good luck go with you O Chief of the Wolves And good luck and strong white teeth go with noble children that they may never forget the hungry in this world It was the jackal Tabaqui the Dish licker and the wolves of India despise Tabaqui because he runs about making mischief and telling tales and eating rags and pieces of leather from the village rubbish heaps But they are afraid of him too because Tabaqui more than anyone else in the jungle is apt to go mad and then he forgets that he was ever afraid of anyone and runs through the forest biting everything in his way Even the tiger runs and hides when little Tabaqui goes mad for madness is the most disgraceful thing that can overtake a wild creature We call it hydrophobia but they call it dewanee the madness and run Enter then and look said Father Wolf stiffly but there is no food here For a wolf no said Tabaqui but for so mean a person as myself a dry bone is a good feast Who are we the Gidur log the jackal people to pick and choose He scuttled to the back of the cave where he found the bone of a buck with some meat on it and sat cracking the end merrily All thanks for this good meal he said licking his lips How beautiful are the noble children How large are their eyes And so young too Indeed indeed I might have remembered that the children of kings are men from the beginning Now Tabaqui knew as well as anyone else that there is nothing so unlucky as to compliment children to their faces It pleased him to see Mother and Father Wolf look uncomfortable Tabaqui sat still rejoicing in the mischief that he had made and then he said spitefully Shere Khan the Big One has shifted his hunting grounds He will hunt among these hills for the next moon so he has told me Shere Khan was the tiger who lived near the Waingunga River twenty miles away He has no right Father Wolf began angrily By the Law of the Jungle he has no right to change his quarters without due warning He will frighten every head of game within ten miles and I I have to kill for two these days His mother did not call him Lungri the Lame One for nothing said Mother Wolf quietly He has been lame in one foot from his birth That is why he has only killed cattle Now the villagers of the Waingunga are angry with him and he has come here to make our villagers angry They will scour the jungle for him when he is far away and we and our children must run when the grass is set alight Indeed we are very grateful to Shere Khan Shall I tell him of your gratitude said Tabaqui Out snapped Father Wolf Out and hunt with thy master Thou hast done harm enough for one night I go said Tabaqui quietly Ye can hear Shere Khan below in the thickets I might have saved myself the message Father Wolf listened and below in the valley that ran down to a little river he heard the dry angry snarly singsong whine of a tiger who has caught nothing and does not care if all the jungle knows it The fool said Father Wolf To begin a night s work with that noise Does he think that our buck are like his fat Waingunga bullocks H sh It is neither bullock nor buck he hunts to night said Mother Wolf It is Man The whine had changed to a sort of humming purr that seemed to come from every quarter of the compass
