Encouragement from the Psalms Dr. B, 2023-03-03 As James Brandon read and studied the Psalms over the years he came to realize that the Lord was talking to our souls through these ancient songs He was also struck by a book written in the 1800s by a man named Hawker who after reading one of the Psalms would exclaim Oh my soul what is this that thou hast found in the Holy Writ He would talk to his soul after reading the text The author began to read the Psalms and reflect on what each one said to his soul He has done that for fifty years In this book he focuses on Psalms forty two to seventy two the Exodus Book of the Psalms which encompasses restoration and redemption from bondage They are songs that teach salvation the doctrines of the faith and how to take care of your soul The Psalms are a wonderland of devotion They have enlightened the author's mind and encouraged his spirit They can do the same for you all while providing principles for living this life as you help others walk with the Lord Jewish Fundamentalism in Comparative Perspective Laurence J.

and a martial air despite a corpulence which annoyed him excessively had transferred his lost authority over his regiment to his household. The boys were in their own regiments and rid of parental discipline but the countess and the girls received the full benefit of his military and Prussian relish for despotism. In his essence a kind man and fond of his women he balked their every individual wish and allowed them practically no liberty. They never left the house unattended like the American girls and those fortunate beings of the student class. Lili had a charming voice and was consumed with ambition to be an operatic star. She had summoned her courage upon one memorable occasion and broached the subject to her father. All the terrified family had expected his instant dissolution from apoplexy and in spite of his petty tyrannies they loved him. The best instructor in Berlin continued to give her lessons as nothing gave the Graf more pleasure of an evening than her warblings. The household quite apart from the Frau Gräfin's admirable management ran with military precision and no one dared to be the fraction of a minute late for meals or social engagements. They attended the theater the opera court functions dinners balls on stated nights and unless the Kaiser took a whim and altered a date there was no deviation from this routine year in and out. They walked at the same hour drove in the Tiergarten with the rest of fashionable Berlin started for their castle in the Saxon Alps not only upon the same day but on the same train every summer and the electric lights went out at precisely the same moment every night. The count's faithful steward manipulated a central stop. They were encouraged to read and study but not oh by no means to have individual opinions. The men of Germany were there to do the thinking and they did it. Perhaps the rebellion of the Niebuhr girls would never have crystallized for after all their everyday experience was much like that of other girls of their class merely intensified by their father's persistence of executive ardors. Had it not been for two subtle influences quite unsuspected by the haughty Kammerherr they had an American friend Kate Terriss who was finishing her voice in Berlin and their married sister Mariette had recently spent a fortnight in the paternal nest. The count despised the entire American race as all good Prussians did but he was as wax to feminine blandishments outside of his family and Miss Terriss was pretty diplomatic alluring and far cleverer than he would have admitted any woman could be. She wound the old martinet round her finger subdued her rampant Americanism in his society and amused herself sowing the seeds of rebellion in the minds of those poor Niebuhr girls. As the countess also liked her she had been in and out of the house for nearly a year. The young Prussians had alternately gasped and wept at the amazing stories of the liberty the petting the procession of good times enjoyed by American girls of their own class to say nothing of the invariable prerogative of these fortunate girls to choose their own husbands who according to the unprincipled Miss Terriss invariably spoiled their wives and permitted them to go and come to spend their large personal allowances as they listed. Gisela closed her beloved volume of Grimm's fairy tales and never opened it again.
