

APUSH UNIT 2; 1754–1800:

1. Taxation Without Representation

Definition:

– “Taxation without representation” refers to the situation in which American colonists were subjected to taxes by the British government without having elected representatives in the British Parliament to advocate for their interests. This grievance became one of the central issues leading to the American Revolution.

Examples:

– Stamp Act (1765): This law imposed taxes on paper products, including newspapers, legal documents, and playing cards, without any colonial input.

– Townshend Acts (1767): A series of taxes on goods like glass, lead, tea, and paint, imposed by Parliament, again without colonial representation.

– Tea Act (1773): While this act was designed to aid the British East India Company, it still imposed a tax on tea, leading to the Boston Tea Party as a protest.

Significance:

– The phrase encapsulated the core colonial complaint about British governance and became a rallying cry for resistance. The lack of representation in Parliament meant that colonists had no direct say in the decisions that affected them, fueling widespread dissatisfaction and eventually revolutionary sentiment. This injustice was central to the colonists' desire for independence and contributed directly to the American Revolution.

2. Loyalists vs. Patriots

Definition:

– Loyalists were American colonists who remained loyal to the British Crown during the American Revolutionary War, while Patriots were those who supported independence from Britain. The conflict between these two groups represented a significant ideological and political divide within the colonies.

Examples:

– Loyalists: Many Loyalists were wealthy colonists, government officials, Anglican clergymen, and merchants who saw loyalty to the British Crown as essential for their social and economic interests. Some feared the chaos and uncertainty of a rebellion. Prominent Loyalists included Joseph Galloway and William Franklin (the son of Benjamin Franklin).

– Patriots: Patriots were more likely to come from the lower and middle classes, including farmers, tradespeople, and intellectuals. They believed that independence was necessary for the protection of colonial rights and liberties. Prominent Patriots included figures like George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and Samuel Adams.
