Bananas, Beaches and Bases Cynthia Enloe, 2014-05-16 In this brand new radical analysis of globalization Cynthia Enloe examines recent events Bangladeshi garment factory deaths domestic workers in the Persian Gulf Chinese global tourists and the UN gender politics of guns to reveal the crucial role of women in international politics today With all new and updated chapters Enloe describes how many women s seemingly personal strategies in their marriages in their housework in their coping with ideals of beauty are in reality the stuff of global politics Enloe offers a feminist gender analysis of the global politics of both masculinities and femininities dismantles an apparently overwhelming world system and reveals that system to be much more fragile and open to change than we think Bananas, Beaches & Bases Cynthia H. Enloe, 1989 New analysis of international politics The Face of the Nation Elise Stephenson, 2024 The Face of the Nation studies women s leadership and gender relations across some of the worst performing and most male dominated spheres of state international affairs Exploring the stories from almost 80 global women leaders as well as institutional histories and policies across diplomacy defense national security policing and intelligence this book seeks to understand why women remain under represented on the global stage despite many changing social and policy norms Using Australia as a leading case study the book extends theories on gender and international institutions to understand the gendered racialized and heteronormative structures that continue to limit and impact on diverse women s leadership and participation internationally

Gender and International Relations Jill Steans, 2006-08-18 Offering a comprehensive overview of feminist contributions to the study of international relations this title includes chapters on gender and development and womens human rights plus an exploration of possible research trajectories and theoretical lines of enquiry The War In-Between Wendy Kozol, 2024-05-07 Explores the ambiguities and contradictions that disrupt the assumed boundaries of battle zones Against the fabric of suffering that unfolds around more spectacular injuries and deaths The War In Between studies visual depictions of banal routine or inscrutable aspects of militarized violence Spaces of the in between are both broader and much less visible than battlefields even though struggles for survival arise out of the same conditions of structural violence Visual artifacts including photographs video data visualizations fabric art and craft projects provide different vantage points on the quotidian impacts of militarism whether it is the banality of everyday violence for non combatants or the daily struggles of soldiers living with physical and emotional trauma Three interrelated concepts frame the book s attempt to stay in the moment of looking at visual cultures of survival First the concept of the war in between captures those interstitial spaces of war where violence and survival persist side by side Second this book expands the concept of indexicality to consider how images of the in between rely on a range of indexical traces to produce alternative visualities about survival and endurance Third the book introduces an asymptotic analysis to explore the value in getting close to the diverse experiences that comprise the war in between even if the horizon line of experience is always just out of reach Exploring the capaciousness of survival reveals that there is more to feel and engage in war images than just mangled bodies collapsing buildings and industrialized death The War In Between Kozol argues offers not a better truth about war but an accounting of visualities that arise at the otherwise unthinkable junction of conflict and survival

The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History Bonnie G. Smith, 2008 The Encyclopedia of Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive 4 volume work Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe Historians have investigated womens daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical social or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical social and demographic changes The Encyclopedia contains over 1 250 signed articles arranged in an A Z format for ease of use The entries cover six main areas biographies geography and history comparative culture and society including adoption abortion performing arts organizations and movements such as the Egyptian Uprising and the Paris Commune womens and gender studies and topics in world history that include slave trade globalization and disease With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts this reference work is sure to be a valued go to resource for scholars college and high school students and general readers alike

The Oxford Handbook of International Security Alexandra Gheciu, William Curti Wohlforth, 2018 This Oxford Handbook is the definitive volume on the state of international security and the academic field of security studies It provides a tour of the most innovative and exciting new areas of research as well as major developments in established lines of inquiry It presents a comprehensive portrait of an exciting field with a distinctively forward looking theme focusing on the question what does it mean to think about the future of international security The key assumption underpinning this volume is that all scholarly claims about international security both normative and positive have implications for the future By examining international security to extract implications for the future the volume provides clarity about the real meaning and practical implications for those involved in this field Yet contributions to this volume are not exclusively forecasts or prognostications and the volume reflects the fact that within the field of security studies there are diverse views on how to think about the future Readers will find in this volume some of the most influential mainstream positivist voices in the field of international security as well as some of the best known scholars representing various branches of critical thinking about security The topics covered in the Handbook range from conventional international security themes such as arms control alliances and Great Power politics to new security issues such as global health the roles of non state actors cyber security and the power of visual representations in international security The Oxford Handbooks of International Relations is a twelve volume set of reference books offering authoritative and innovative engagements with the principal sub fields of International Relations The series as a whole is under the General Editorship of Christian Reus Smith of the University of Queensland and Duncan Snidal of the University of Oxford with each volume edited by a distinguished pair of specialists in their respective fields The series both surveys the broad terrain of International Relations scholarship and reshapes it pushing each sub field in challenging new directions Following the example of the original Reus Smit and Snidal The Oxford Handbook of International Relations each volume is organized around a strong central thematic by a pair of scholars drawn from alternative perspectives reading its sub field in an entirely new way and pushing scholarship in challenging new directions The Globalization of World Politics John Baylis, Steve Smith, Patricia Owens, 2017 This title provides an introduction to international relations IR supporting over 300 000 students taking their first steps in IR and beyond Vulnerability and the Politics of Care Victoria Browne, Jason Danelly, Doerthe Rosenow, 2021-01-28 This book brings together scholars from across the social sciences and humanities to examine what it means to be vulnerable to care and be cared for within conditions of inequality violence and crisis across the globe Gender, UN Peacebuilding, and the Politics of Space Laura J. Shepherd, 2017 The United Nations Peacebuilding Commission UNPBC was established in December 2005 to develop outlines of best practice in post conflict reconstruction and to secure the political and material resources necessary to assist states in transition from conflict to peacetime Currently the organization is involved in reconstruction and peacebuilding activities in six countries Yet a 2010 review by permanent representatives to the United Nations found that the hopes of the UN peacebuilding architecture despite committed and dedicated efforts had yet to be realized Two of these hopes relate to gender and power specifically that peacebuilding efforts integrate a gender perspective and that the Commission consult with civil society NGOs and women s organizations This book is the first to offer an extensive and dedicated analysis of the activities of the UN Peacebuilding Commission with regard to both gender politics broadly conceived and the gendered dynamics of civil society participation in peacebuilding activities Laura J Shepherd draws upon original fieldwork that she conducted at the UN to argue that the gendered and spatial politics of peacebuilding not only feminizes civil society organizations but also perpetuates hierarchies that privilege the international over the domestic realms The book argues that the dominant representations of women gender and civil society in UN peacebuilding discourse produce spatial hierarchies that paradoxically undermine the contemporary emphasis on bottom up governance of peacebuilding activities Countering Violent Extremism Elizabeth Pearson, Emily Winterbotham, Katherine E. Brown, 2021-02-15 This book presents original research on gender and the power dynamics of diverse forms of violent extremism and efforts to counter them Based on focus group and interview research with some 250 participants in Canada France Germany the Netherlands and UK in 2015 and 2016 it offers insights from communities affected by radicalisation and violent extremism It introduces the concept of gendered radicalisation exploring how the multiple factors of paths to violent extremist groups social local individual and global can differ for both men and women and why The book also offers a critical analysis of gender and terrorism a summary of current policy in the five countries of study and some of the core gendered assumptions prevalent in interventions to prevent violent extremism a comparison of Jihadi extremism and the far right and a chapter of recommendations This book is of use to academics policy makers students and the general reader interested in better understanding a phenomenon defining our times Entangling Alliances Susan Zeiger, 2010-03-01 Throughout the twentieth century American male soldiers returned home from wars with foreign born wives in tow often from allied but at times from enemy nations resulting in a new official category of immigrant the allied war bride These brides began to appear en masse after World War I peaked after World War II and persisted through the Korean and Vietnam Wars GIs also met and married former enemy women under conditions of postwar occupation although at times the US government banned such unions In this comprehensive complex history of war brides in 20th century American history Susan Zeiger uses relationships between American male soldiers and foreign women as a lens to view larger issues of sexuality race and gender in United States foreign relations Entangling Alliances draws on a rich array of sources to trace how war and postwar anxieties about power and national identity have long been projected onto war brides and how these anxieties translate into public policies particularly immigration

Feminist Perspectives on Terrorism Aleksandra Gasztold, 2020-04-01 This book explores terrorism and security issues from feminist perspectives putting gender and androcentrism at the heart of its analysis It argues against traditional research approaches to political violence and terrorism in particular that are dominated by the male gaze and individual stereotypes and perspectives and that feminist approaches offer a fresh perspective on security research Our current understanding of political violence is primarily based on the experiences of men and as such the challenge in terrorism and radicalization research is to demonstrate that women's studies on security and terrorism satisfy certain universal criteria The author shows how a post positivist approach can be useful in gaining insights into terrorism and violent extremism and how to address these phenomena The book presents theoretical foundations based on various feminist assumptions and exposes the essence of feminism its conceptual grid gender variabilities and the developments in feminist thinking and theory Furthermore it discusses the trends in feminist epistemology and explains female radicalization to terrorist activity the specificity of female terrorism and the roles of women in deradicalization processes as well as their impact on counterterrorism policy The book concludes that gender difference as a constitutive variable of social reality is of key importance in studies on terrorism and counterterrorism

Geopolitics and Business Čedomir Nestorović, 2023-11-29 This book sheds light on the intricate relationship between geopolitics and business and the essential interdependence between corporations and geopolitics Despite apparent animosity practical solutions and theories proposed by geopolitics find resonance within the business world and vice versa Concepts like critical theory disruption hegemony strategic rivalry and cost effectiveness hold common ground in both realms even though they have historically been disregarded Geopolitical authors have often overlooked the vital role played by businesses in shaping global affairs while businesses themselves view geopolitics as a risk to be managed These contrasting viewpoints have given rise to misunderstandings and misconceptions between the two spheres The author sets out to bridge the gap between geopolitics and business exploring how corporations perceive space state and power while also analyzing the influence of classical critical and feminist geopolitics on business strategies This comprehensive analysis reveals that businesses are not mere non state agents among many but indeed the principal non state agents in geopolitics The book is an essential read for scholars researchers and professionals seeking a deeper understanding of the dynamic interplay between these critical forces

Bible Blindspots Jione Havea, Monica Jyotsna Melanchthon, 2021-11-03 Several of the ways and cultures that the Bible privileges or denounces slip by unnoticed When those the privileged and the denounced are not examined they fade into and hide in the blind spots of the Bible This collection of essays engages some of the subjects who face dispersion physical displacement that sparks ideological bias and othering ideologies that manifest in social distancing and political displacement These include among others the builders of Babel Samaritans Melchizedek Jezebel Judith Gomer Ruth slaves and mothers In addition to considering the drive to privilege or denounce the contributors also attend to subjects ignored because the Bible s blind spots are not examined These include planet Earth indigenous Australians Palestinians Dalits minjungs battered women sexual abuse victims religious minorities mothering men gays and foreigners This collection encourages interchanges and exchanges between dispersion and othering and between the Bible and context It flows in the currents of postcolonial and gendered studies and closes with a script that stages a biblical character at the intersection of the Bible's blind spots and modern readers' passions and commitments

Decentering International Relations Doctor Meghana Nayak, Professor Eric Selbin, 2013-04-04 Decentering International Relations seeks to actively confront, resist, and rewrite International Relations (IR), a heavily politicized field that is deeply centered in the North West and privileges certain perspectives, pedagogies, and practices. Is it possible to break the chain of signifiers that always leads IR studies back to the US and its European allies? Through engagement with a variety of theories ranging beyond the usual mainstream versus critical alternative binary and conversations with scholars, activists, and students, the authors invite the reader to participate in an accessible yet provocative experiment to decentre the North West when we learn, study, and do IR. In particular, they examine how the pressing issues of human rights, globalization, peace, and security, and indigeneity are simultaneously normative inventions meant to sustain particular power structures and sites for insurgent and subversive attempts to live IR at the margins. Selbin and Nayak have written a remarkable and provocative re-envisioning of a globally important subject.
