Bandb Stops England Scotland Wales 2000:

The Rise of Comparative Policing Jacques de Maillard, Sebastian Roché, 2021-08-26 This book argues that policing should be studied in a truly comparative manner as a way of identifying more accurately the diverse features of police organisations and the trends which affect contemporary policing Studying policing comparatively is also a way to develop more sophisticated theories on the relations between police state and society aiming at higher degree of generalization In particular broadening the empirical basis often limited to Western countries favours the formulation of more encompassing theories The comparative analysis then is used to refine meso or macro theories on various aspects of policing The book covers the challenges of comparative research in diverse areas of policing studies with innovative tools and approaches to allow for the development of that subfield of policing It is a significant new contribution to policing studies and will be a great resource for academics researchers and advanced students of Public Policy Sociology Political Science and Law The chapters in this book were originally published in Policing and Society B and B Stops in England FHG Guides, 2005-02 In room fireplaces classic charm four poster beds and low rates Stop and Search and Police Legitimacy Ben Bradford, 2017-01-06 Stop and search is a form of police citizen interaction that is confrontational often stressful for those involved and potentially damaging to the relationship between police and public The extent to which police officers use their power to stop and perhaps search members of the public is intimately linked not only to the present day context of policing but also to longer term patterns in the aims of policing the ends used to achieve them and ultimately to the ideology of policing in England and Wales Stop and Search and Police Legitimacy draws upon both police administrative and survey based data to examine what has for many years been one of the most highly charged and contested aspects of police practice Taking a decidedly quantitative empirical approach this book examines the patterning of police stops over social and geographic space the problem of ethnic disproportionality and the evidence concerning how people experience and react to being stopped by police particularly in relation to issues of fairness legitimacy cooperation and compliance A further important concern is the extent to which this form of police practice shapes and re shapes the identities of those affected by it This ground breaking study is a comprehensive resource for students and scholars in the fields of criminology sociology social policy ethnic and racial studies and human rights It will also be of special interest to police leaders and policy makers

Governing Police Stops Across Europe Elizabeth Aston, Sofie De Kimpe, János Fazekas, Genevieve Lennon, Mike Rowe, 2023-11-17 This book takes a critical and comparative approach to the analysis of the governance of police stops across Europe It draws on an EU COST Action research network on Police Stops which engaged academics and practitioners from 29 countries to better understand the practice of police stops It begins by examining how police stops are defined and the various legal rules and levels of accountability afforded The chapters are arranged by theme to focus on a core aspect of the governance of police stops These include legal frameworks and police discretion internal governance external accountability
