Bank Mergers Lessons For The Future:

Bank Mergers S. Davis, 2000-08-10 Despite the wall of evidence that bank mergers add little or no value investors and management continue to fuel the consolidation wave This book draws on the actual experience of senior executives in over 30 banks with extensive merger experience to demonstrate how most mergers do in fact fail to meet objectives It explores in detail the issues of strategic positioning cost and revenue synergies due diligence IT selection and conversion people selection cultural conflict leadership and the decision making time frame It concludes that experienced and determined leadership significant net cost savings swift decision making and the cost of IT integration are key variables for success It also suggests that the prospect of more cross border mergers and modest short term cost savings argues for a new pact between investors and bank management

Mergers and Acquisitions in Banking and Finance Ingo Walter, 2004 This book is intended to lay out in a clear and intuitive as well as comprehensive way what we know or think we know about mergers and acquisitions in the financial services sector It evaluates their underlying drivers factual evidence as to whether or not the basic economic concepts and strategic precepts are correct It looks closely at the managerial dimensions in terms of the efficacy of merger implementation notably the merger integration process The focus is on enhancing shareholder value creation and the execution of strategies for the successful management of mergers It also has a strong public policy component in this special industry where successes can pay dividends and failures can cause serious problems that reach well beyond the financial services industry itself The financial services sector is about halfway through one of the most dramatic periods of restructuring ever undergone by a major global industry The impact of the restructuring has carried well beyond shareholders of the firms and involved into the domain of regulation and public policy as well as global competitive performance and economic growth Financial services are a center of gravity of economic restructuring activity MandA transactions in the financial sector comprise a surprisingly large share of the value of merger activity worldwide including only deals valued in excess of 100 million during the period 1985 2000 there were approximately 233 700 MandA transactions worldwide in all industries for a total volume of 15 8 trillion Of this total there were 166 200 mergers in the financial services industry 49 7% valued at 8 5 trillion 54% In all of restructuring frenzy the financial sector has probably had far more than its share of strategic transactions that have failed or performed far below potential because of mistakes in basic strategy or mistakes in post merger integration. It has also had its share of rousing successes. This book considers the key managerial issues focusing on M&A transactions as a key tool of business strategy doing the right thing to augment shareholder value. But in addition the degree of integration required and the historic development of integration capabilities on the part of the acquiring firm, disruptions in human resources and firm leadership, cultural issues, timeliness of decision making and interface management have co equal importance doing it right.

Bank Mergers and Acquisitions in the United States 1990 -1997 Ashford Maharaj, 2002-06 This study focused on factors that have positively influenced the model of economic success for commercial and thrift megabanks involved in merger and acquisition activities for the period 1990-1997 a period characterized by an unprecedented flurry of merger and acquisition activities among megabanks in the United States This study identified and measured key independent variables for identifiable mergers and acquisitions among megabanks and tested the extent to which such independent variables influenced abnormal returns for underlying equities traded in capital markets This study also tested the hypothesis that megabanks are attracting significantly higher acquisition premiums than the relatively smaller banks The data collected and the conclusions drawn were based on the logic of a hypothetico deductive paradigm which essentially utilized the techniques of the standard event study methodology and included parameters of the conventional Capital Asset Pricing Model This study was based on a scientifically determined sample of over 200 banks in the small bank category and between 68 and 86 banks grouped under the megabank category The findings revealed that megabank acquirers realized negative abnormal returns and that megabank acquirees did not realize economic value significantly greater than acquirers for those banks that integrated on a merger of equals basis The findings also showed that megabanks seemed more willing to pay higher premiums for the right to integrate with other megabanks vis a vis the right to integrate with small banks Excellence in Banking Revisited! S.
