Unnatural Wonders Arthur C. Danto, 2017-03-14 Arthur C Danto s essays not only critique bodies of work but reflect upon art s conceptual evolution as well drawing for the reader a kind of philosophical map indicating how art and the criteria for judging it has changed over the twentieth century In Unnatural Wonders the renowned critic finds himself at a point when contemporary art has become wholly pluralistic even chaotic with one medium as good as another and when the moment for the next thing has already passed So the theorist goes in search of contemporary art s most exhilarating achievements work that bridges the gap between art and life which he argues is now the definitive art of our time Danto considers the work of such young artists as John Currin and Renee Cox and older living masters including Gerhard Richter and Sol LeWitt He discusses artists of the New York School like Philip Guston and Joan Mitchell and international talents such as the South African William Kentridge Danto conducts a frank analysis of Matthew Barney s The Cremaster Cycle Damien Hirst s skeletons and anatomical models and Barbara Kruger s tchotchke ready slogans finds the ghost of Henry James in the work of Barnett Newman and muses on recent Whitney Biennials and art influenced by 9 11 He argues that aesthetic considerations no longer play a central role in the experience and critique of art

Art and Advertising Joan Gibbons,2011-05-12 Art and advertising are often seen as potential enemies with the one being free from commercial concerns and the other dependent upon them In this clearly written and wide ranging book Joan Gibbons argues rather for a mutually enriching relationship between the two showing how artists have reached a wider audience by embracing the tactics and mass media of advertising and how advertising has employed issues and strategies of contemporary art Charting key points of overlap and antagonism she looks at the work of artists from Andy Warhol Barbara Kruger and Victor Burgin to Sylvie Fleurie and Svetlana Heger and at landmark campaigns from Silk Cut to Benetton s Shock of Reality Exploring cutting edge advertising from the influential work of David Carson to Wieden and Kennedy s Nike campaigns and the art and advertising work of Tony Kaye she also looks at the increasing endorsement of art by highly branded products such as Absolut vodka to argue that art and advertising need not be mutually exclusive terms
